Voices from the exhibitors

The show helped increase brand awareness and enhanced our motivation.

Although the Ako Dantsu Mat (cotton carpet) is said to be one of "the three Japanese major Dantsu," most of the comments from visitors were "What is Ako Dantsu?" That made us acutely aware of how low brand awareness we have. However, we received valuable advices from many professionals in relation to "distribution channels and methods," "prices" and others. Through these experiences we have enhanced our motivation and enthusiasm to protect Japanese Dantsu.

Ako Dantsu wo Denso suru Kai (Association of Ako Dantsu Tradition Keepers)

We want to make better use of our participation from Okinawa to produce fruitful results.

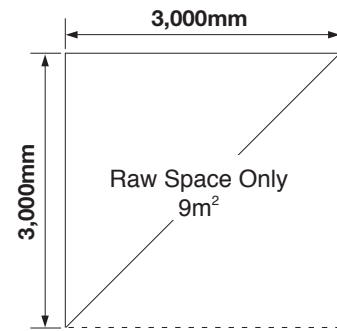

We manufacture bedding using original materials of Okinawa with designs that provide comfort and healing. Since this is our first participation in the show, we were often overwhelmed by the difference of the scale from Okinawa. We could have many business talks, a very fruitful outcome of the show. Next time, with exerting more of our originality and ingenuity, we would like to produce better results based on the experiences we had this time.
